QUIZ Notification

In response to a suggestion from a member we have been looking into the possibility of running a fundraising quiz for BLT with an entry fee and a cash prize (or prizes) for the winners.

The problem was how to do this when it is so easy to find information on everything online which would then make it extremely difficult to run a secure quiz which offered cash prizes.

After considerable deliberation and some experimentation, we think we have come up with a format that is fun, fair and a bit frivolous but we hope interesting for participants and also reasonably compelling for a potential audience.

For the project to work in the way we envisage it, we will need 36 contestants to be involved in six knock-out rounds. There would then be a seventh round which would be the final in which the winners from each of the six previous rounds compete.
The quiz would be open to anyone who would like to join in but you will need to have a computer (laptop or PC) that has a camera and microphone. Sorry a mobile phone is not suitable although some ipads may be, please contact us to check.

All of the questions will be connected in some way to theatre (including several about BLT) and they will be presented in a manner similar to that employed on University Challenge but with individuals rather than teams competing.

Entry into the competition will cost £1 per person.
There will be a cash prize of £10 for the winner which will leave £26 to be donated to the BLT rebuilding campaign.

There will be a question master and two adjudicators.

Each round will run for 20 or 30 minutes (this to be decided in some trial runs)

The final product will be shown as a sort of broadcast on You Tube, Facebook and Instagram.

If you would like to be involved as a competitor contact Dave Armour on danmandan@aol.com or 07798757902.
We hope to make a start on putting this together before the end of May so please apply NOW.
